2011 Alabama Tax Reporting

If you contributed to your CollegeCounts account in 2011, up to $10,000 of your contributions are tax deductible for Alabama tax purposes ($5,000 for single filers). Keep in mind that any Alabama taxpayer who may have made a contribution to your account is eligible to take advantage of the Alabama income tax deduction.

If family members or friends made contributions to your account, be sure to remind them to tell their tax professional about their contribution.

In 2010, contributions to CollegeCounts were reported on Form 40, Part II, Line 8 for tax deduction purposes. As of the date of this newsletter, the 2011 Alabama tax forms were not available. Check with your tax professional and the Tax Center on the CollegeCounts site for additional information regarding 2011 tax reporting.

This is a great time to start contributing to CollegeCounts to benefit from the 2012 Alabama income tax deduction.

A monthly automatic contribution is an easy way to build additional savings without having to remember to mail a check or contribute online. Simply log in online to set up a contribution of $25, $50, $100 or more each month in 2012.

account number

Withdrawals in 2011 (IRS Form 1099-Q)

IRS Form 1099-Q will be mailed to any recipients of a 2011 withdrawal from a CollegeCounts account by the end of January 2012. If you requested a withdrawal in 2011, watch for your 1099-Q to arrive in late January or early February. If the distribution was payable to the account owner, the 1099-Q will be sent to the account owner. If funds were paid to the beneficiary or to the college directly, the beneficiary will receive the 1099-Q.

We recommend that you keep your college expense invoices and receipts with your tax papers in the event there are ever any questions about your withdrawal. If the distribution was for a qualified higher education expense, you should not need to report it when you file your 2011 taxes. If the withdrawal was non-qualified, the earnings portion that is provided on the 1099-Q would be reported as income and would incur a 10% penalty tax. You should consult your tax professional for more information and advice.

2011 Gift Tax Reporting

If you made larger gifts in 2011 (ie: typically over $13,000), make sure to mention them to your tax professional so they can determine if any special IRS filings are required. If you took advantage of the special 5-year front-loading election allowed for 529 plans, please notify your tax professional so they can prepare any necessary Gift Tax Return. The due date for filing is April 17, 2012.
